Members of the Erie County Community,

During these challenging times, we are working to make adjustments that will allow our services and programs to continue to operate with the same level of professionalism that you have come to know and expect from us. We will continue to monitor the most up-to-date information on how to safely deal with the coronavirus and implement those directives.

GECAC has been here for the community for the last 54 years, as this is not our first crisis, it is however an unprecedented time. We are prepared to do our part to support the Erie County community.

As strong and resilient as we all may be, we all need support at some point in our life. If this is a time when you need support, know that we will be here to help in the best way possible.

You may contact us by calling 814-459-4581. During this time of social distancing, we will continue to assist our clients to the best of our ability. Following this crisis, it is our hope to be able to help those who have been newly affected as a result of this crisis. Until then, continue to stay safe and follow the directives given by the Centers for Disease Control (CDC).

Best regards,

Danny J. Jones
